

WASHINGTON CRITIC

CITY SPECIALS.

Suburban Homes on B. and O.
Washington city has no adjacent territory so desirable for suburban residences as that lying along the Metropolitan Branch of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. The country is elevated beyond the malarial influences that invest the city, has almost perfect natural drainage, is beautifully wooded, abounds in springs of pure water, is traversed by smooth and well-kept roads and has adequate train facilities. These advantages are possessed by no other region within easy reach, and they have already lured many of the business of the town, as is evidenced by the number of handsome villas and cozy cottages that adorn the landscape, seen from the windows of the train.

To those who must bear the heat and burden of a Washington day in midsummer, the suburban retreat along the Metropolitan Branch affords a refuge where the exhausted energies revive under the quiet but potent stimulus of verdant lawns, shaded paths and the cooling breeze that comes laden with the perfume of the flower-dotted fields and bears healing balms from the pine woods upon its wings.

The low charges for quarterly, monthly and other classes of commutation tickets place the pleasure of the benefits of a summer home in the country within the reach of persons of even moderate income.

The train service is similar to that of the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad, and will receive additions as the convenience of patrons and the needs of the traffic require. Ticket time-tables, showing movement of trains, and rates of fare for commutation tickets, can be procured at the ticket offices of the company, 115 Pennsylvania avenue, 419 Pennsylvania avenue, corner of New Jersey avenue and Calver, or will be mailed to any address upon application to Percy G. Smith, City Passenger Agent, No. 1001 Pennsylvania avenue.

Change of Schedule on the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad.

A change in the schedule of trains on the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad will go into effect on Monday, the 16th inst.
